

can make also. He says, 'we cannot just say that young people are the future of our world. They are its present; even now, they are helping to enrich it' (64). He goes on to say that: 'A young person stands on two feet as adults do, but unlike adults, whose feet are parallel, he always has one foot forward, ready to set out, to spring ahead' (139). A young person has the ability to do great things, to push forward and reach outwards. As Catholics, we need to listen to the words of the Gospel of Mark (16:15): 'Go into all the world and preach the Good News to everyone.'

Living in Harmony with the Earth - In Laudato Si', Pope Francis reminds us that we are stewards of God's creation. We are simply looking after it for each other and for future generations. 'Christian stewardship means caring for the planet and all the life on it that God has created. It means working to make sure that all the goods of the earth are distributed in a fair and just way. Solidarity with others, especially with people who are poor, is the fruit of stewardship.' We are called to examine our own lifestyles and ask ourselves the questions: 'How do I care for the planet?'; 'How do I care for life?'; 'What part do I play in the distribution of the earth's goods?'; 'Am I fair?'; 'Am I just?'; 'In what way do I show my solidarity with others?'; 'In what way do I show my solidarity with the poor?' While there is a call on governments and countries to drastically change the way in which we use the earth's resources, we have to start with ourselves. We must change our ways in order to ensure the survival of the earth. Pope Francis says, 'the rejection of every form of self-centeredness and self-absorption, are essential if we truly wish to care for our brothers and sisters and for the natural environment ... If we can overcome individualism, we will truly be able to develop a different lifestyle and bring about significant changes in society' (LS, 208).

Living in Harmony with God's Creation – cont'd

"Save us, O Lord our God!"

Newsletter Sunday 2nd February 2020

As I said in last week's newsletter the resources provided for Catholic Schools Week (CSW) are excellent. The theme for this year is 'Living in Harmony with God's Creation', which needless to say is very topical for today as environmentalism and climate change are never off the political, social and personal agenda. The theme is subdivided into sections. Last week I wrote about Living in harmony with God. This week in drawing from the resource (#CSW2020), I will write about

Living in Harmony with our Neighbours
Living in Harmony with all Generations
Living in Harmony with the Earth

The overall theme encourages us to see that we all have a responsibility to care for the earth, not just for our own future, but for the future of every one of God's creatures.

Living in Harmony with our Neighbours - In Laudato Si', we are called to care for our common home. Pope Francis highlights the fact that we all have a responsibility to care for the earth for future generations. If we can overcome individualism, we will truly be able to develop a different lifestyle and bring about significant changes in society.' We are called to love our neighbour as ourselves. In 2019, Pope Francis opened the Season of Creation on 1 September. This continued until 4 October, which is the feast day of St Francis of Assisi. In his address on 1 September he stated that we need a change that will 'free us from the slavery of consumerism'. We cannot bury our heads in the sand and pretend that the world as we know it is not changing. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Reverend Justin Welby says that 'the outlook of climate change is not potentially bad ... it is potentially fatal for the most fragile countries and regions on earth and for the billions of people who live in them.' We can help, one person at a time, one step at a time. Pope Francis encourages Catholics to make 'courageous decisions' and undertake 'prophetic actions' and for political leaders to have a real commitment 'for directing the planet toward life, not death'.

Living in Harmony with all Generations - we celebrate the role that older people play in the lives of younger people. And vice versa! This reciprocity is a very special relationship, the benefits of which, knows no bounds. In 2 Timothy 1:5, St Paul says 'I am reminded of your sincere faith, which first lived in your grandmother Lois, and in your mother Eunice, and I am persuaded, now lives in you also.' As young people, we learn a lot from the older people in our lives. Very often, the things we value most are the values that have been handed down from our parents, or our grandparents. In Amoris Laetitia (191), Pope Francis reminds us that a society 'will move forward if it respects the wisdom of the elderly.' But in Christus Vivit Pope Francis points out the contribution that young people

Dublin Diocese Spring Liturgy Seminar

1. 2020 Vision - Mary Clavin will offer refreshing insights on the celebration of the liturgy. Mary is full of infectious enthusiasm for the spirit of renewal inspired by Vatican II. Decades later there is much still to do.

Donal Neary S.J., formerly parish priest of Gardiner St, and presently editor of Messenger, will lead a workshop to explore these aspects.

4. 'Supporting Women and Families' - The Trócaire theme for Lent 2020 is "women around the world struggling to protect their families" and the two focused countries are Kenya and Honduras. #### Saints in the Church's calendar

Feast of St. Blaise – Monday 3rd February

Throats will be blessed at the 8am and 10am Mass this Monday 3rd February to mark the Feast of St. Blaise.

Blessing of Throats

The blessing of St. Blaise is a sign of our faith in God's protection and love for us and for the sick. Using two crossed and unlighted candles, blessed on the memorial of St. Blaise or on the feast of the Presentation of the Lord, the minister touches the throat of each person saying, 'Through the intercession of St. Blaise, bishop and martyr, may God deliver you from all ailments of the throat and from every other evil. In the name of the Father....'
